

remove all the dockerfiles and update this database system into mongodb instead of postgres sql and and generate and modify the frontend ,index.html and backend files and design the webpage according to the requirement given in pdf and and add user authentication system(additionaly user can also login and sign up using google) and make sure it is fully functionable in backend and frontend also and add a user profile icon in dashboard when user click on it he can see settings, logout and profile edit option and transfer this fully fledged app into a industrial grade app you can use angular js frame work also ,lastly and mainly check all the app and its feature are working properly and create a batch file or something to start app directly