see there is no sign up/register option add this and fix every single thing and complete all the remaining tasks and and make sure user can login and sign up sucessfully to get inside app transform this app from devlopment grade into production grade and industrial level

3 minutes ago

Decided on signup integration plan (5 seconds)
The user is frustrated and wants:

A signup/register option added to the login page
Fix all remaining issues
Make sure users can login and signup successfully
Transform from development to production-grade
Looking at the screenshot, I can see the login page has no signup option. I need to:

Search the codebase for existing signup functionality
Add a signup page/route if it doesn't exist
Wire the signup to the backend registration endpoint
Set up MongoDB (critical for auth to work)
Test the full auth flow
Fix any remaining issues
Call architect for review
The feedback suggests I should:

Call architect for strategic guidance on production-grade requirements
Search codebase for existing auth flow
Let me start by searching for existing signup/register functionality, then create a comprehensive plan.